Symphony Hall: Dmitri Shostakovich struggled to maintain his integrity as an artist while serving the Soviet state as required. His 10th Symphony, completed after the death of dictator Joseph Stalin, was a balancing act and a mid-life crisis set to music. The Phoenix Symphony welcomes pianists Michael Stephen Brown and Adam Golka to play Mozart's Concerto for Two Pianos (No. 10), which Mozart composed for himself and his sister, Maria Anna, to perform. Tito Muñoz conducts the world premiere of a new piece by multidisciplinary artist Annie Nikunen exploring the connections between movement and sound.
